

BIOGRAPHY

HONOLULU MILITARY ENTRANCE PROCESSING STATION

490 Central Avenue, Pearl Harbor, HI 96860

Phone: (808) 664-6144

Lieutenant Commander Amanda L. Dzananovic

United States Navy

Commander

Honolulu Military Entrance Processing Station

Lieutenant Commander Amanda L. Dzananovic is the commander of the Honolulu Military Entrance Processing Station.

She received her commission from the Navy ROTC Program at Virginia Tech in May 2004.

Lieutenant Commander Dzananovic served as an aviator, Patrol Squadron 30, Jacksonville, Florida; aviator, Patrol Squadron 5, Jacksonville; operations officer, Navy Recruiting District Minneapolis, Minnesota; student control director, Recruit Training Command, Naval Station Great Lakes, Illinois; and N15 exercises, individual augmentee, and plans branch head to the commander, U.S. Pacific Fleet, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Her military education includes the Joint Maritime Operations Curriculum Course I and II and the Maritime Staff Operators Course. She attended flight schools: Aviation Preflight Indoctrination, Primary Flight Training, and Multi-Engine Flight Training (Survival, Evasion, Resistance, and Escape). She also earned a Bachelor of Science in Sociology from Virginia Tech, Blacksburg; and a Master of Science in Management from the Naval Postgraduate School.

Her military awards and decorations include the Joint Commendation Medal, three Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medals, the Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal, and various service, unit and campaign ribbons and medals.