

BIOGRAPHY

INDIANAPOLIS MILITARY ENTRANCE PROCESSING STATION

5541 Herbert Lord Drive, Indianapolis, IN 46216

Phone: (463) 203-4159

Lieutenant Commander G. Luke Rayfield

United States Navy

Commander

Indianapolis Military Entrance Processing Station

Lieutenant Commander G. Luke Rayfield is the commander of the Indianapolis Military Entrance Processing Station.

He earned his commission through the Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps at the Citadel, Charleston, South Carolina.

Lieutenant Commander Rayfield served as a nuclear electrician aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier USS Dwight D Eisenhower, homeported in Norfolk, Virginia; leading petty officer aboard the nuclear-powered supercarrier USS Ronald Reagan, homeported in San Diego, California; recruiter in charge, Navy Recruiting Station Rogers, Navy Recruiting District Nashville, in Rogers, Arkansas; supply officer and food service officer aboard the ballistic missile submarine USS Pennsylvania, homeported in Bangor, Washington; branch chief, Defense Logistics Agency Land and Maritime, Columbus, Ohio; guest operations officer and supply officer, Presidential Retreat Camp David, Maryland; and officer in charge, Talent Acquisition and Onboarding Center, Kansas City, Missouri.

His professional military education includes the Naval Nuclear Power School, Supply Corps School, Submarine Officer School, Department Head Course, Navy Flight School, Naval Leadership Ethics Course, and Human Resources Introductory Course. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from The Citadel; attended the Executive Training Program at the Darden School of Business; and earned certification as a Level-II Contracting Officer from the Defense Acquisition University, Columbus, Ohio.

Lieutenant Commander Rayfield's military awards and decorations include the Joint Service Commendation Medal, three Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medals, seven Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medals, and various unit and service medals and ribbons.