

Lansing

Military Entrance Processing Station
120 East Jolly Road, Lansing, MI 48910
Phone: (517) 318-9888

Lieutenant Commander James C. Wilker

United States Navy

Lt. Cmdr James C. Wilker is the commander of the Lansing Military Entrance Processing Station.

He received his commission through Navy ROTC at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana in 2015.

Lt. Cmdr Wilker served as the deputy executive assistant for the Assistant Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (Personnel, Manpower, and Training) Arlington, Virginia; assistant section head for the pay and allowance branch Arlington, Virginia; the quality assurance officer aboard USS Rhode Island, homeported in Kings Bay, Georgia completing sea trials and four alert patrols.

Lt. Cmdr Wilker's professional military education includes the Submarine Warfare Division Officer Basic Course, Naval Nuclear Power School and Prototype, Gas Turbine Engineering School, the Human Resources Introductory Course, the Navy Intermediate Leadership Course, the Command Leadership Course, and the Senior Leadership Legal Course. He earned a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from Purdue University West Lafayette, Indiana and a master's degree in engineering management from Old Dominion University Norfolk, Virginia. He is certified in Professional Human Resources (PHR).

His personal awards include two Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medals, four Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medals, Submarine Warfare Qualification and various service, unit and personal medals and ribbons.