

Raleigh

Military Entrance Processing Station
2625 Appliance Court, Raleigh, NC 27604
Phone: (984) 328-8000

Major Jason L. Myl

United States Air Force

Major Jason L. Myl is the commander of the Raleigh Military Entrance Processing Station and supports the USMEPCOM mission of evaluating applicants by applying Department of Defense standards in processing and determining eligibility for military service.

He earned his commission through Air Force Officer Training School, Air University, in October 2009.

Major Myl served as assistant flight commander, 3rd Manpower Requirements Squadron, Scott Air Force Base, Ill.; section chief, 375th Force Support Squadron, Scott Air Force Base; readiness and mortuary officer and flight commander, 52nd Force Support Squadron, Spangdahlem Air Base, Germany; executive officer and international military education and training chief, Office of Defense Cooperation, Ankara, Turkey; student, Foreign Area Officer Fellowship Program, Defense Language Institute and Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, Calif.; international military education and training chief, deputy chief, and Air Force Programs Manager, Office of Security Cooperation, Niamey, Niger.

His military education includes Force Support, Air and Space Basic Course, Squadron Officer School, French Language Course, Middle East/South Asia/Africa Regional Security Studies, Air Command and Staff College, and Joint Professional Military Education. He earned a Bachelor of Arts in Communication Sciences from Loyola Marymount University, Los Angeles, Calif., and a Master of Arts in International Relations from Webster University, Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Major Myl's military awards and decorations include two Defense Meritorious Service Medals, the Air and Space Commendation Medal, two Air and Space Achievement Medals, and various service, unit, and personal medals and ribbons.